

Implementing Strategy

We've worked very closely with this advanced technology organisation for a number of years now, shaping their strategic growth plans and most recently, supporting their new management structure.

We've worked with the leadership team, helping its members to translate the team's strategic ambition into organisational goals and realistic implementation plans.

Now the goals are clearer, managers are more accountable and performance management more meaningful. Progress can be measured and results are seen to have been achieved.

“This has been a significant piece of work over a period of time and has had a demonstrable effect on so many parts of the business and brand.”