

Realising ambitious plans

Throughout 2017-18 Fathom Learning provided support to a client in the education sector with ambitious plans to change the performance and culture of the organisation. This project included facilitating the transition from a long-established senior team to one with a new leader and a number of new members. Corinne provided interventions which helped them to become a strong, positive, strategically capable leadership team.

As a result of the work done the client met its ambitious three year goals within a much shorter time period and is well on the way to achieving its desired culture. The business has also achieved a prestigious quality standard and is gaining an enviable reputation nationally as a centre of excellence.

Quote from the head of the organisation - "I was blown away by how much you retain, bring back and link with every part of your work with us"
